

ABC Affiliate Features Simulab

Watch Grey's Anatomy

To view past episodes of Grey's Anatomy go to ABC's website to view them online.

Images of a scene from the May 3rd episode of Grey's Anatomy featuring Simulab's simulated brain matter.

SIMULAB
CORPORATION

Local Media Takes Notice

Last week's episode (May 3, 2007) of Grey's Anatomy included a scene which used Simulab's simulated brain matter. This latest episode is a continuing part of Simulab's developing partnership with Grey's Anatomy. Past episodes have featured Simulab's Adult Surgical Head, TraumaMan, CentraLineMan, and the LapTrainer.

ABC's local affiliate, KOMO TV, aired a story about Simulab's involvement with the show and the growing role of surgical simulation in education on it's 11:00 News on May 3rd. To view that newscast, entitled "Body Building With Grey's Anatomy," click here.

If you would like more information about Simulab's growing product line of soft tissue models and other simulators, please visit www.simulab.com or call us at 206-297-1260.

Sincerely,

Chris Toly, CEO
Simulab Corporation